One course, two ways for the story to come out. Everybody gets the same six sessions and the same two private 1-on-1s. Their comic can run as four to six pages in the Bukmuk Comic Anthology, alongside eight or nine other young authors. Or it can become a book of their own. Start with the anthology and move up later if the work is good and they want the room.

The whole ladder

	Price (INR)	What it is
Comic Anthology	Rs 9,990	The six sessions, two 1-on-1s, and four to six pages in a shared full colour book with an ISBN. Eight to ten young authors a volume.
Solo Comic	Rs 43,990	The same course. The story comes out as their own book of 24 to 32 pages, with its own ISBN, its own cover, and a 5% royalty, paid quarterly once it passes Rs 500.

The teaching is identical on both. Four things get shared across eight or ten young authors in the anthology: the ISBN, the cover, the layout and the print run. On a solo book they all rest on one child. The only thing that changes is how much of the book is theirs.

How Paying Works

How payment works

Comic Anthology	Rs 9,990	In full, before Session 1.
Solo Comic	Rs 43,990	In full, before Session 1.

The rules we hold ourselves to

- * Batches are capped at five children, and two batches make one anthology volume.
- * Page count is settled in Session 5 from the thumbnails, not at enrolment.
- * Artwork has a hard deadline. It is a shared book, so a late contributor holds up eight other families. Anyone who needs longer moves to the next volume.
- * Your child checks and approves their own pages before anything is printed.
- * Every young author in the volume is credited on the book and its Amazon listing.
- * We ink your child's drawings. We never redraw them into somebody else's style.
